At Lexington, Mrs. Lucy Emison, a great-grandmother, was granted a divorce and $5,000 alimony from her husband, W. L. Emison, a wholesale liquor dealer who is well known in Stanford. They were married in 1854.

Presley Smith, aged 49 and twice a widower, and Miss Sallie Imis, a maiden of 59 summers, were married Wednesday. The groom is from Jessamine county while the bride lives near Rowland. They met for the first time at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon to become his wife. A young man named Peters, who lives on James Pepples' farm, brought about the match.

Several months ago, J. S. Harris murdered Thomas Merrill in Gratz Park, Lexington, when he caught him with his arm around his wife. The killing created a great sensation at the time and the woman was said to side decidedly with the man who was killed. She has, however, dried her tears for him and the news comes from Lexington that her husband has taken her to his heart again and they are living now as happy as a big snail.

Mr. William S. Fish and Miss Alene Denton, of Garrard, were married in the Myers House parlors Wednesday at high noon by Elder Joseph Severance. Mr. Carlos Fish and Miss Katie Denton, brother and sister of the pair, acting as best man and lady. After dinner at that hostelry Mr. and Mrs. Fish left for Nashville, where they will remain several days taking in the sights of the exposition. The bride, who is a daughter of R. R. Denton, is a beautiful little brunette of many accomplishments while the groom is a merchant of Paint Lick, a good business man and a very clever gentleman.

Ulcero C. Gooch and Miss Ora Caldwell, daughter of Squire E. B. Caldwell, Jr., both of the Waynesburg section, were married in Sheriff T. D. Newland's office in the court-house by Elder Joseph Severance yesterday afternoon. The couple went to Louisville with the expectation of meeting her father, who is there attending the Grand Lodge of Masons, and marrying there, but the old gentleman could not be found and they came here and married as above stated. The bride is a handsome blonde, noted for her sweet disposition and noble traits and is one of the most popular ladies of her section, while the groom is a clever, industrious man with a good eye to business. They were very happy after the knot was tied and here's hoping that their cup of joy will always be as full.

The mayor of Birmingham has ordered from the city several hundred refugees who fled from Montgomery because of the yellow fever. The list includes the State officers, and they must leave the State, as Nashville, Atlanta, and Louisville are the nearest hospitable cities.

The most marvelous feat of engineering was accomplished in Philadelphia this week, when an iron bridge span 242 feet long, 25 feet wide and weighing 1,700 tons, was removed and another substituted in the short space of two minutes and 32 seconds.

The richest church in the world is the Orthodox church of Russia. A missionary says that it could easily pay the National debt of $1,000,000,000 and not be impoverished. Its largest revenue is from the sale of consecrated candles.

An Ohio girl was convulsed with laughter over a funny story and has been laughing incessantly ever since, though doctors have tried to stop her. The case has created great excitement. The "Year Book of the Jews" reports 11,000,000 of that race. Nearly 6,000,000 live under Russian jurisdiction.

Rev. Howard L. Jones, brother of Rev. Carter Helm Jones, Baptist, has accepted a call to an Episcopal church property being worth over $200,000.

Water is so scarce at Parksville that Rev. Ira M. Boswell had to take his 20 converts to Danville to be baptized in the pool at the Christian church.

Since 1820 the Methodist Episcopal church has received $32,060,131.36 for missions; in 1887 the society reached the million line. It has never fallen below that line since, and last year the amount was $1,261,688.53.

Near Bryantville Sunday a very novel colored baptizing occurred in the Kentucky river. There were 15 men and women to have their sins washed away and they all wore white caps and white robes made mother Hubbard style with belts. They formed in a line some distance from the river and marched down to the water, singing the song, "Go wash in the Beautiful Pool." The pool might have been beautiful, but the 15 were far from it after their plunge into it.

MT. VERNON.

Miss Lidatook is attending the Normal school at Morehead. This is under the auspices of the Christian church and should be well patronized by its members, being thorough in every respect. Mrs. J. W. Nesbitt has been visiting relatives near Orlando. Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Bothum have returned from a trip to Louisville. Mrs. Will Stark and daughters have returned to Livingston. Mr. W. J. Sparks was in Louisville recently. Elder Farrer preached here Sunday. Rev. J. Whorl preached at the Presbyterian church a week.

It is with sadness that we chronicle the death of Mrs. E. A. Reppert, who formerly resided here, but at the time of her death lived in New Orleans. She was one of the many victims of that fearful scourge, the yellow fever, which is devastating the South. After only a few days' illness she died Oct. 18th, with her sorrowing husband and three-year-old daughter, Ruth, at her side. Her devoted mother, Mrs. Jennie Ashford, of Lexington, Ky., had preceded her, having died on the 20th of September of the same disease. Mrs. Reppert possessed many excellent traits of mind and character, was a fond wife and loving mother and leaves many friends to mourn her untimely death.

Miss Mattie Williams is visiting relatives in Nashville. John W. Miller has had a car load of barrels hauled to his large orchard near town. R. G. Williams, the popular candidate for county judge, is making friends daily and adding to the bright prospects of success. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Miller and interesting children are visiting the family of Mr. Monroe Frazer, Louisville. They will attend the Nashville exposition while away. Mrs. J. H. Kirby, of Stanford, has organized a class in education here. Mrs. Kirby comes thoroughly prepared for the noble work in which she is engaged and we bespeak immense success for her here. She already has a good class, but desires to have others enter at once. Mrs. Ella Baker and daughter are visiting in Livingston. Miss Sunshine Lusk, who attended school at the college here, has returned to her home at Grays. Mrs. George Cook, of Livingston, and Master John Lahr, are the guests of Judge Lahr.

While in Livingston recently we had the pleasure of visiting the school taught by Prof. Dickerson and Miss Georgia McFerran. The school seems to be in a flourishing condition averaging 65 and we think the citizens have cause to feel proud of the educational facilities of their town. We also attended the Christian church where a large congregation listened to the excellent sermon by Elder Dickson, of Williamsburg. A Christian Endeavor has been organized recently and the young people are now preparing for a temperance contest. George Cook, one of Livingston's most progressive citizens, tells us that all they need there is our court-house to make the town complete. Mrs. Titha Gresham is selling lots across the river at low prices and houses can not be obtained to rent at any price. Houses rent easily for $10 per month. Mrs. VanNoy and Mrs. Sambrook are visiting in Covington.

Yellow fever continues to assert itself at New Orleans, Wednesday's record being six deaths and 60 new cases. There were two deaths at Mobile and eight new cases. New cases were reported, though in smaller numbers, from various infected towns, Wayne county, Miss., has quarantined against Meridian, Miss., because of rumors of yellow fever.

Walter Harris, of Tazewell, Tenn., caught his erring wife and her lover in a cave and building a fire in the mouth of it, smoked them out. When they approached him he filled them with slugs from a couple of shot guns and escaped.

The earnings of the Louisville end of Monon increased $20,000 in September, which shows that General Agent Newman and District Passenger Agent E. H. Bacon are not letting anything get away from them.

There are 52 penitentiaries and over 17,000 jails in the United States, 900,000 persons were incarcerated in the year 1892. The criminal expense to the country is not less than $100,000,000 a year.

Business has been almost entirely suspended at Montgomery, Ala., on account of the yellow fever scare. People have left the city in large numbers.

Dr. Bertie Carpenter reports no improvement in Dr. Brown's condition. Mrs. Chadwick, of Quincy, is visiting Mrs. V. B. Morse.

A fair sized crowd attended the sale of John Rynderson, Wednesday. The bidding was not very spirited but fair prices were generally obtained. He will move to Danville to educate his boys.

An entertainment under the efficient management of Miss Margaret Bennett, consisting of music and recitations, by the Junior Endeavor Society, will be given at the Christian church Friday night, 22d.

Fully 300 people attended the sale of the late Major Nigey at Phil and fair prices prevailed. Old corn sold at $2 25; new corn in pen at $1.65 to $1.75; hogs 3c; horses $10 to $20; cattle, hay, etc., up to market price.

James B. Cook has sufficiently recovered from his recent severe illness to be able to start for home the last of this week. Judge Wm. Myers, we are informed, has traded his elegant and finely improved farm near Kidd's store for C. C. VanArsdale's mill at this place.

The Wooler Mills at Phil are running full time and have more orders than they are able to fill. They recently sold $1,000 worth of wool, quite a number of new cottages are being built near their plant. James Coffey & Son have dissolved partnership at Yosemite. The son, Jason, will leave for Florida next week, where he will engage in the grocery business.

The political sea in the West End moves quietly on without a murmur. There seems to be some uneasiness on the part of the radicals. Recently they held a seance at the colored school-house here. Among the noted (?) orators we are reliably informed was a man by the name of White who so disgusted the larger part of the audience by his low, dirty vulgarity in referring personally to Mr. George B. Cooper and family in his talk of 15 minutes that without exception our colored citizens say—and I have asked several that were present—that it was outrageous and disgusting. Our colored citizens are a higher class of citizenship than he gave them credit of having attained. They are not cannibals, brutes nor Fiji, nor that class of degraded, ignorant and depraved beings he had supposed them to be from the idealess rot harangue he delivered. On the contrary, our colored people are a quiet, peaceful, intelligent, hard working and God-fearing people, republicans by conviction and true to their principles, pay their debts and with too much principle to talk about their neighbor behind his back in a way that they would not to his face, whether friend or foe.

The director of the mint reports coinage during the year as follows: Gold, $71,646,705. Silver dollars, $21,203,701. Subsidiary silver, $4,124,085. Minor, $984,509. The silver dollars coined were from silver bullion on hand purchased under the act of July 14, 1890. The total coinage of silver dollars from bullion purchased under that act, from August 13, 1890, (date the law took effect) to July 1, 1897, has been 68,748,477 pieces, containing 53,172,650 ounces of fine silver, costing $51,532,154, giving a seigniorage of $17,216,322.

In Iceland there are no prisons and the inhabitants are so honest in their habits that such defenses to property as locks, bolts and bars are not required; nor are there any police in the island. Only two thefts are known to have been committed there in 1,000 years.

Judge Barr sustained demurrers in 35 counts in the indictments against Banker McKnight at Louisville, but as there are 56 yet to be disposed of, Mr. McKnight is far from being a free man.

In Africa 438 languages and 153 dialects are found; into only about 70 of these has any portion of the Bible been translated; 500 of them have never been reduced to writing.

THERE is no office in the gift of the people more important to them and more directly affecting their interests, than that of circuit judge, for upon that official devolves decisions not only affecting their property rights, but their civil liberty and their very lives. Such power should be bestowed with great care and upon the most worthy and competent man, one who knows the law and has the courage to administer it without fear or favor. Judge M. C. Saufley has been tried in every way and has never been found wanting in any attribute that goes to make the honest, capable and incorruptible judge. Knowing his worth and proud of his record the democratic party gave him a clear field for re-election and now calls upon all men who appreciate worth and moral and judicial rectitude to come to his support. He is the peer of any lawyer in the State and his past record is an earnest of what may be expected of him in the future. All good democrats will rally heartily to his support and we ask those who pride themselves on the fact that they vote for the man regardless of party, to consider Judge Saufley's claims and fitness and we are sure they will vote to continue him on the bench, which he has elevated and honored by a strict impartiality and fairness that has made him famous as a man and a jurist.

LITTLE Prynor Foree, of Shelbyville, who thinks he is running for Congress, told a Lawrenceburg correspondent that he wanted to have a joint debate with Gov. McCreary, but the silver managers seem to be afraid of him. Well! Well! Well! As well may they be afraid of ghosts, hobgoblins, spooks and spectres. Afraid of a man who a little over a year ago was willing to accept the Chicago platform for a seat in Congress, but who couldn't fool the silver democrats and had to retire from the race after writing a card so ridiculous as to make him the laughing stock of the gold bug papers? Afraid of him? Yes democrats are afraid of him, so very much afraid that they will see that his present aspirations, like those of last year, will also die a-borning.

THE efforts that the republicans are putting forth for their candidate for the appellate clerkship shows that they are taking no stock in the assertion that Hindman will draw many votes from the democratic candidate, the only possible contingency upon which they could hope to elect him. A vote for Hindman is a half vote for Bailey and we do not believe any considerable number of democrats will let their votes count that way. Put your cross in the square under the rooster and your vote will be recorded for the full democratic ticket.

HON. CHARLES A. TOWNE, the Minnesota free silver republican, who was billed to speak at numerous points in Kentucky, has cancelled his dates, saying that the Ohio managers had arranged for him to speak in that State and he deemed it more important to do so. Glad of it. We don't need his kind to help democracy in Kentucky.

G. M. PULLMAN, the famous Palace Car magnate, died suddenly at Chicago of angina pectoris. There are no pistols in a shroud, so he took none of the $25,000,000 he had accumulated with him. Let us hope that he left a clause in his will reducing the price of berths and increasing the pay of porters, so that the public will not have to support them.

GOV. BRADLEY isn't making any speeches this year, but he is making more votes than anybody for the republican ticket. Nearly all the convicts, perhaps all, whom he restores to citizenship, and he is kept pretty busy, are republicans.

As a mark of respect to the memory of her dead ex-husband, Mrs. Lily Langtry withdrew her horses from the races. Poor tender hearted thing! After driving him crazy and getting a secret divorce from him, this tenderness is touching.

THE democrats of both factions are thoroughly united in this county in their determination to elect the excellent ticket that has been selected for the various offices and the indications are that it is all over but the shouting. This confidence is born of a knowledge of the situation and a reliance in the good sense of the people, but we should not let our belief, founded though it be on bed rock facts, run into over confidence. Our opponents are making a death struggle and when we consider that they will not stop from any means no matter how disreputable, it will be realized that we must not unbend a single effort or let up in the battle until it is fought and won. Get out every vote possible for the party by seeing that those who have no conveyances are provided with them, and see that those unfamiliar with the ballots are made to understand them by the means of the several thousand educational ballots printed at this office. Let us all make a strong pull and a pull together, and this paper will tell a tale the day after the election that will fill all democratic hearts with joy.

HON. JOHN W. YERKES, who always seemed to us to be in the wrong crowd for a man of his attainments and standing, is about to lower the good opinion of him held by all who know him, by making a speech at Louisville for Todd, who represents everything that is repugnant to society and politics and who has long since been deserted by such reputable gentlemen of his party as Hons. A. E. Willson, Andrew Cowan and others. Fie upon you, Mr. Yerkes! You had better stay "to home" and study out schemes to evade the civil service law, so that the victors may get the spoils, they deserve.

THE roving bimetallic commission, which the republicans sent to the world as sort of a sop to the free silver people, is about to acknowledge that their trip has been a failure, except for their own fun, and come home, after becoming the laughing stock of the powers. The commission has only shown itself a howling success in one particular that of spending the appropriation of $50,000, which is a further and to them more important reason for returning home.

POLITICS

The ballots for Louisville are 60 inches long and there is no press in the city large enough to print them.

Hon. J. Speed Smith, of Madison, has resigned the clerkship of the House of Representatives to make the race for representative.

From Guatemala comes the glad tidings, "revolution subdued, order restored all over the country." Now, won't Dr. Hunter be good and light out?—Louisville Times.

The Danville Advocate says that Judge Saufley deserves re-election by a majority that will attest the esteem in which he is held as an official and a man of splendid character and unusual attainments.

The Louisville Capital, republican, sends up this wall: "Well, well! So we turned out the democrats because we wanted 'a look at the books,' and now must we turn out the republicans before we can get that look?"

President McKinley is accused of having broken faith with Georgia republicans by failing to appoint Gen. James Longstreet railroad commissioner. It is said that Gen. Wade Hampton is to continue in the position.

Senator Deboe's speeches in Kentucky have been conceded to be the latest attempt at campaigning ever known by the old stump orators.—Louisville Post. Did any body expect any thing better of a man whose reputation lies solely upon the fact that he went to sleep in the Senate and snored aloud.

The republicans tell you that the foreigners pay the tax. If you have bought any sugar since the Dingley tariff bill has become a law you have discovered that you don't get as much sugar for $1 as you did before. If you have bought certain dry goods you have had the same experience. The consumer pays the tax; the trusts and protected manufacturers get the benefit.—Georgetown Times.

The question, "who are democrats?" was very emphatically answered by Grover Cleveland on one occasion. The Atlanta Constitution had bitterly opposed his nomination in 1892, but promptly yielded to the action of the convention which named him as the candidate. To the editor Mr. Cleveland wrote a letter containing this declaration: "The acceptance of the arbitrament of the National convention is the underlying principle of party organization."

Auditor Stone's report will show there was a deficit in the State treasury of $426,276.39 June 30, 1895. On June 30, 1896, it had grown to $1,055,097.05 and at the end of the present fiscal year it had reached $1,520,138.37. He estimates the receipts for the general expenditure fund for the current fiscal year which ends June 30, 1898, at $1,870,215, and the expenditures for the same period at $3,171,850, leaving a deficit for the year of $301,635, which, added to the present accumulated deficit, will make a total deficit in the treasury on June 30, 1898, of $1,090,318.33. The estimate calculates on the receipt of $562,650 from the extra tax of 10 cents authorized by the last session of the Legislature, but it does not provide for payment of the $100,000 appropriation for reform school.

Matt Blakely and wife, of Princeton, are under indictment for sprinkling poison in L. Y. Pollard's well, who with his family came near dying from drinking the water.

Judge R. H. Thompson, of Louisville, was elected grand master of the Kentucky Masons and Editor James W. Hopper, of the Courier-Journal, grand high priest of the Grand Chapter.

He asked on his death bed that no obituary appear of him in his paper and this is all the New York Sun had of his death: "Charles Anderson Dana, editor of the Sun, died yesterday afternoon."

Wise Girl.
 "I shall certainly marry a wealthy man if I can get one," she said, with determination. "I prize the comforts and pleasures that wealth can give above all else."

"That being the case," returned the poor suitor bitterly, "may I ask which you would take if you had your choice between a plumber and an iceman?"

"That would depend entirely upon the season of the year," she replied after a moment of deep thought.—Chicago Post.

Looking Backward.

NEARLY two inches of rain fell in Louisville and vicinity Monday night, but this section was favored with less than enough to lay the dust. The signal service says that it will be cloudy to-morrow, but says nothing about rain.

SPEAKING.—Hon. B. C. Warren, Mr. J. S. Owsley, Jr., and others will speak at Higgins' School-house on Cedar Creek, Thursday night, 28th, at 7 o'clock, and at Anderson's School-house, near Ephesus church, at the same hour, Friday, 29th.

WHEN a fellow descends so low in his speeches as to disgust the average republican audience, it is time to call him off. This is what they say Henry White is doing and thereby showing that he has forgotten that he was raised by worthy parents. See our Hustonville letter.

EVERYBODY should vote for free turnpikes and the bond issue. The majority has spoken in a very decided manner for free pikes and their will should not be thwarted by the ignorance of the one upon whom the calling of the election devolved. In other words democrats should right the immense wrong that republican stupidity has put upon the people.

IT is hard for a decent man to fight an irresponsible and unscrupulous foe who risks around at the time of night when honest men are in bed and tells his Negro and ignorant white audience things that he would not dare say to the man he defames. We are not an advocate of violence, but the only way left to deal with such creatures is to use the cowhide or horse whip on their mungy backs. That's the way to settle them.

A CREATURE to whom it would be a compliment to call a male offspring of a female canine sent a scurrilous letter to the editor of the Somerset Paragon for publication in which he makes some low bung reference to bad spelling and worse grammar to the editor of this paper. Instead of printing it, as the coward hoped he would, Editor Hansford very kindly and promptly sent it to us. If the pusillanimous, white livered bastard will disclose his identity, we promise him that he won't write any more letters anonymous or otherwise.

HUSTONVILLE.—There are four municipal tickets in Hustonville. Under the Log Cabin is W. S. Huffman only; under the rooster the name of Jess Austin for marshal only appears; the citizen's ticket is under a horse shoe and has for police judge, J. B. Adams; marshal, Eugene D. Goode; trustees, I. P. Steele, W. R. Williams and J. P. Goode; the people's ticket goes under a plow and has only candidates for trustees: A. M. Frye, V. B. Morse, Coleman Carpenter, Chas. W. Adams and A. B. C. Dinwiddie. The two latter afterwards certified to County Clerk J. P. Cummins that they would not accept the office under any circumstances and asked that their names be withdrawn.

SNOW.—The Richmond Register is reminded by an old resident that 25 years ago last Sunday, that is Oct. 17, 1892, a six inch snow fell throughout Kentucky. It was just after the battle of Perryville and it was the breaking up of a drought similar to the one we are suffering.

THE Rowland people are modest. Only one man is running for justice on the Citizen's Ticket, G. A. Hurst, and he is blind. Eliza Pence for marshal is the only other name on the ticket. The People's Ticket has W. C. Barnett for police judge and T. D. Martin for marshal with no candidates for trustees.

TO-NIGHT AT HUSTONVILLE.—Miss Margaret A. Bennett writes us from Hustonville that there was a mistake in the announcement of the Junior Christian Endeavor entertainment at that place. It will occur to-night, 22d, at the Christian church when will be given a "Committee's Harvesting" free to all. After the exercises there will be an oyster supper given by the senior C. E. society at the parsonage, the proceeds to go towards the fund pledged for the minister's salary. Admission free. A number of the young folks will go from here.

GOT IT AT LAST.—John Hamner, who killed Mack Moore a few years ago and was pardoned of his short sentence after serving a while in the penitentiary, went the way that characters of his kind usually go, Monday night, that is to lauds with his boots on. He was shot five times and killed at Junction City by ex-Marshall W. F. Tuttle, who it is said acted solely in self-defense. He went to Tuttle's store and began to abuse and threaten him for arresting him while he was marshal. Tuttle tried to pacify him, but he grew worse in his abuse and the affair climaxed as above. Hamner was once tried for assaulting a woman near Perryville and bore a very mean name. Tuttle surrendered to the authorities at Danville. Public sympathy is entirely with him.

SPECIAL TRAIN.—The republican candidate for appellate clerk, Jas. G. Bailey, is to be taken over this division in a special car, accompanied by United States Senator Beboe, Judge George Denny, Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter, Hon. John Henry Wilson, Judge W. H. Holt, of Frankfort, and other prominent republicans. The train will leave Louisville on the 26th and stops and speeches will be made all along, arriving here at 7 P. M. That night we suppose the gang will speak here and next day, 27th, will leave at 8:30 A. M., and stop at the following places: Crab Orchard, Brodhead, Mt. Vernon, Livingston, Alamo, East Bernstadt, Pittsburg, London, Lily, Rockhold, Williamsburg, Pleasant View, Jellico and Coeburn, where a stop will be made for the night. Next day they will go to Middleboro and the next return to Winchester, &c.

DEMOCRATS who haven't voted for years will go to the polls Tuesday week and help elect the excellent ticket under the rooster. Mismanagement of the county's affairs by the republicans has awakened them to the importance of putting only capable, honest men into office and they will see to it that the ticket of turncoats and incompetents is turned down forever. It would be absurdly ridiculous to elect such a man as Dawson over Bailey for county judge, but about that race little fears are entertained. While the democrats have almost everything their own way they are not ignorant of the fact that the races for county clerk and sheriff will be close and they will be so simply because the republican nominees for these offices are the best men on their ticket, not because of any deficiency in the make-up of Messrs. George B. Cooper and Sam M. Owens. Admitting that Messrs. Cummins and King are good men and strong men, is there any reason why a democrat should tarnish his record by voting for them? Is either more competent than his democratic opponent? There never was a better county clerk than Mr. Cooper made and as for Mr. Owens was a capital officer. Does any one dispute either of these assertions? If not endorse them by voting the straight democratic ticket. If they made incompetent officers then scratch them all you wish. In the school superintendent's race the democratic party offers a splendid gentleman in Mr. Garland Singleton. He is well fitted for the office and being a man can very naturally attend to its outside duties as well, if not better, than his lady opponent, although Miss Kate Blain has made a most efficient officer. Only one mark on your ballot is necessary and when you stamp at the rooster's feet you not only vote the democratic ticket from end to end, but lend your assistance in wrenching Lincoln county from the hands of the irresponsible gang that has fattened at its crib every since the republicans got control.

AT Richards school-house to-night and McKinney to-morrow night, Messrs. Warren, North and Helm will preach pure democracy. Hear them.

FINGERS CUT OFF.—Ben F. Arnold, a freight brakeman whose home is at Hyattsville, had all the fingers of his left hand cut off while coupling cars at Livingston yesterday.

SPEAKING.—Judge M. C. Sanley and other candidates will speak at: Crab Orchard, Tuesday, October 26th, at 1 P. M.

Rowland, Wednesday, October 27th, at 7 P. M.

Milledgeville, Thursday, October 28th, at 1 P. M.

Ottumwa, Friday, October 29th, at 1 P. M.

Waynesburg, Saturday, October 30th, at 1 P. M.

All voters are cordially invited.

POLK MILLER.—One of the nicest audiences that ever attended an entertainment here greeted the Polk Miller combination at Walton's Opera House Wednesday night, and to state that it was pleased but mildly expresses the delight that was depicted on every countenance. The performance began with a musical comedy sketch by Mr. Oscar P. Sisson and the charming little vocalist, Miss Ester Wallace, as a gawky New England country boy and school girl, respectively, and they soon caught the house. Mr. Sisson is a fine actor, while Miss Wallace is one of the prettiest, cutest and loveliest little actresses imaginable, and she charmed and delighted with her clever acting and splendid singing. When Mr. Miller came on the stage in the second part he was greeted with prolonged applause and for half an hour he convulsed his hearers with laughter, as he depicted in his incomparably natural way the amusing side of the character of the "Ole Virginny" Negro before the war, or filled them with sorrow with the pathetic side of the lives of those soon to be but a memory. His banjo picking, his songs, and the dialect were so true to life that one could hardly realize that the actor was not a coal and true old fashioned Negro. The entertainment closed with "Old Times Down South," with Mr. Miller in burnt cork as "Uncle Daniel." Mr. Sisson in the dual characters of the banker and the artist and Miss Wallace as "Ruby," and the little lady again proved herself a gem of the rarest ray serene. Mr. Miller looked more like a Negro than a Negro do like himself, and as he told his stories, picked his banjo, and showed the Boston people how he used to play for the white folks and cut out the figures of the dance, the Sambo of the olden times seemed risen from the grave. The gesture song, in which Miss Wallace stood behind Mr. Sisson and used her hands for his, was capitally done and was applauded vociferously. "Old Kentucky Home," led by Miss Wallace, with Miller and Sisson in the chorus, sung with thrilling effect, was a fitting finale to an evening of genuine enjoyment and the curtain fell on an audience loath to depart. Mr. Miller, who is a splendid Virginia gentleman, is without a peer in the specialty that has brought him wealth and fame and the combination he has formed this season adds greatly to the delight of his entertainments. A packed house ought to greet him and his company everywhere they go and from all we hear, the Danville people, where they will entertain to-night, will put standing room at a premium to hear him.

Judge M. C. Sanley, after getting through with more litigation in two weeks than is usually done in twice the time, adjourned court Saturday, until next Tuesday. His ability as a jurist is equal to that of any other lawyer in this State. His industry and fairness on the bench, his advocacy of right and condemnation of all that is wrong, his prompt and energetic attention to business, his faithful and fearless adherence to principle in the discharge of his official duty, all conduce to make him what he is—an efficient and upright judge. He deserves and will receive a re-election by the people of this judicial district.—Harrodsburg Sayings.

The Advocate speaks of Mr. J. R. Hindman as one of the best stump speakers in Kentucky. The wood chuck's remark before taking his flight is very much in order.
